

The illegal we do immediately. The unconstitutional takes a little longer.

Henry Kissinger, New York Times, Oct. 28, 1973

Stop War Crimes!

Henry Kissinger and Al Haig are coming to Boston...to reflect, no less, on their greatest crime: the Vietnam War. Kissinger, wanted in Europe and Latin America for questioning in connections with war crimes and human rights violations, is responsible for among other things:

- Secretly bombing Cambodia & Laos in the late 1960s
- Prolonging the Vietnam War by at least 7 years
- Facilitating the overthrow a democratically-elected government in Chile
- Supporting the invasion of and genocide in East Timor
- Fueling a decades-long “civil” war in Angola

He is also architect of the U.S foreign policy that supported Pol Pot’s terrorist campaign against Cambodia. In recent years as a private “business person,” Kissinger has supported and actively encouraged the Bush Administration’s rejection of the International Criminal Court as well as in attacking the democratic idea of “Universal Jurisdiction” that will hold human rights violators accountable for their crimes.

Henry Kissinger is coming to town. We call on all who care about human and civil rights to demand that Kissinger be held accountable for his crimes. Join us at the Kennedy Center (UMass/JKF stop on the MBTA’s Red Line) demand an end to the wars of occupation and help bring Kissinger to justice.

Saturday, March 11, 2006
10:30 a.m.
JFK Library

Sponsors: Greater Boston Stop the Wars Coalition • WSF 2006 Boston Delegation
Get ready for March 18, 2006 – International Day of Action against the War; Organizing meeting for JFK Library action, Tuesday, February 28, 2006. Venue: 33 Harrison Ave, 3rd floor, Boston, 02111, 6:30 p.m. For more information call: 617-566-2861